Contemplative Supervision

Contemplative Supervision is a continuing education/formation intensive for Supervisors and those wishing to become Supervisors in the contemplative tradition. It includes a practicum that will intersect with workshop on Soul Care.

This extended weekend program offers experience in the practice of offering supervision. It is intended for those with more than 3 years experience in their field of spiritual direction, chaplaincy, order of ministry, pastoral, or clinical counseling. The weekend explores the nature and challenges of contemplative supervision.

This year the ancient symbol of the enneagram will guide us through such topics as ethical behavior, the value and importance of the person and community, accountability, and competence. The symbol invites a myriad of questions for our exploration, conversation, and practical application such as: What is spiritual abuse? How are “knowing” and “self-knowing” related? How do we live deep intrinsic and extrinsic valuing?

These are basic to our nature. They are our body's knowing how to take care of itself and they help us relate to “other”, nature, our social environment and the cosmos.
